WHEREAS, while the City of Newark has had a Sexual Harassment Personnel Policy governing the conduct of its employees in place for several decades, the policy has been in the form of a personnel document (PDP-44, Revised March 1, 1994); and

WHEREAS, while that personnel policy expressly forbids sexual harassment in the workplace, it is incumbent upon the elected representatives of the City of Newark to raise the prohibition to the form of an ordinance to ensure that the policy is uniformly and powerfully enforced; not to regulate morality or to encroach on the personal life of its employees, but to demonstrate a strong commitment to maintaining a workplace free of sexual harassment.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEWARK, NEW JERSEY, THAT:

Note: Additions are shown as bold and underlined and deletions are shown as ~~strikethrough~~.

Section 1. The Revised General Ordinances of the City of Newark, New Jersey, 2000, as amended and supplemented, are hereby amended to include a new Section in Title II, General Administration, entitled: Anti-Sexual Harassment Policy.

1. Policy Prohibiting Sexual Harassment. Sexual harassment is a form of sexual discrimination. It is a policy of the City of Newark to prohibit the sexual harassment of a City of Newark employee by another employee, management representative, union representative, volunteer or vendor. A sexual harassment victim can be of the opposite sex or the same sex as the harasser. It is unlawful to harass a person (an applicant or employee) because of that person's sex. Therefore, sexual harassment in the workplace or at any location at which City-sponsored activities take place are hereby prohibited and shall constitute a violation of this ordinance. The City's current anti-sexual harassment policy set forth in personnel document PDP-44 is incorporated herein. This Ordinance adopts and supplements the City's current policy.

Definition. Sexual Harassment shall be defined as follows: In employment, sexual harassment is defined as any unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors or conduct of a nature when (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment; or (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for any employment decision; or (3) such conduct substantially interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Examples of sexual harassment include:

- Repeated, unwelcome sexually suggestive comments, gestures, emails, or pictures.
- Unwelcome physical contact of a sexual nature.
- Request for sexual favors in exchange for an employment benefit.
- Subtle or direct threats that a sexual or personal relationship is required for employment, promotion, or other favorable treatment in the workplace.

Although the law does not prohibit simple teasing, offhand comments, or isolated incidents that are not very serious, harassment is illegal when it is so frequent or severe that it creates a hostile or offensive work environment or when it results in an adverse employment decision (such as the victim being fired or demoted). (Guidance on harassment as set forth on the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission website)

The harasser can be the victim's supervisor, a supervisor in another area, a co-worker, or someone who is not an employee of the employer, such as a client or customer.

A City employee who believes that she or he has been subject to sexual harassment, or who witnesses others being subjected to such harassment, is encouraged to promptly report the incident(s) to a supervisor or directly to the Director of Personnel or to any other persons designated to receive such workplace discrimination complaints. It is a violation of this ordinance to retaliate against a person who reports sexual harassment in the workplace.

Independent contractors, contracted by the City of Newark, who engage in sexual harassment shall be subject to contract termination

Appropriate accommodations to protect City employees from sexual harassment by clients include, but are not limited to, posting of anti-sexual harassment notice advising employees of their right to a harassment-free workplace.

2. Conflict with Collective Bargaining Agreements. Should there be a conflict between this ordinance and current enforceable Collective Bargaining Agreements between the City and the various collective bargaining units, the provisions of the Collective Bargaining Agreements shall supersede any requirements under this ordinance unless doing so would violate a federal, state or local law.

Collective Bargaining Agreements entered into between the City and various collective bargaining units, after the date of enactment of the Ordinance, shall conform to the requirements of this Ordinance.

3. Training. The City of Newark shall provide and conduct sexual harassment related training to all City employees, along with the Municipal Council members, their staff, the Office of the City Clerk, all appointed officials, including Deputy Mayors annually.

Upon being promoted to a supervisor or managerial position, the newly promoted employee will attend an annual training class for supervisors and managers on sexual harassment, regardless of the date of their most recent sexual harassment policy training as an employee. The Division of Personnel shall make available the management training bi-annually.

The Division of Personnel shall be responsible for formulating and coordinating the training program on anti-sexual harassment.

Each department shall be responsible for ensuring that its employees are trained in accordance with the direction provided by the Division of Personnel, and in keeping and maintaining accurate records of attendance.

4. Non-Confidentiality of Settlements/Non-Funding by City of Newark. No settlement of any claim of sexual harassment can be subject to any agreement of confidentiality on the part of the victim or the City or the alleged harasser. The settlement agreements, whether approved by Municipal Council or the subject of a settlement order by the Corporation Counsel, shall be available for production through the Open Public Records Act.
5. Sexual Harassment Task Force. There shall be established a Sexual Harassment Task Force to investigate sexual harassment claims brought to it by any City of Newark employee. Sexual harassment complaints shall be investigated and discipline, if any, shall be recommended to the Director of Personnel. The employee may seek resolution of their allegations pursuant to PDP-44 or the Task Force, but not both.

The Sexual Harassment Task Force will have the following structure:

All members of the Task Force are required to sign a Non-Disclosure/Confidentiality Agreement.

The purpose of this ordinance is to establish prompt, thorough and effective procedures for responding to every report and incident so that problems can be identified and remedied with the City's administration. Nothing in this Ordinance is intended to supersede or impede an employee's right to contact the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) for information regarding filing a formal complaint.

7. Access to Reports and Documents. All records of complaints, including contents of meetings, results of investigations and other relevant material will be kept confidential by the City of Newark except where disclosure is required under disciplinary or other remedial processes.
